

Corgan: a data center architect; a referral partner more than a buyer

Bottom line

Corgan is a Dallas architecture firm (about 1,200 people) with a large data center design studio. It is acquiring Duda|Paine and hiring a Senior PM for Data Centers. ZoomInfo shows Data Center 91 intent. Corgan doesn't buy fiber; it designs the buildings whose owners do. The play is to become the fiber map Corgan's studio uses when a client looks at a Chicago-area site. The three studio leaders are already in Leaders; change the message from a sales pitch to an offer of help with site selection.

What Corgan is, in one analogy

Corgan is the architect drawing the house. Get the water main on the drawing, and every owner who builds from it calls you.

How the access path should run

Messages, by contact

1. Jonathan Bartkowicz VP, Data Centers Studio Leader

Why them: Studio leader; partner framing.

Channel: Email Tue Oct 6 (pause Leaders steps) | Subject: A Chicago fiber map for Corgan's site studies

Jonathan, when a Corgan client looks at a Chicago-area site, fiber diversity often decides it. Crosstown owns underground fiber on-net at 350 E Cermak, Elk Grove and TierPoint on Polk, mapped to the conduit. I'd be glad to give your studio our KMZ for site studies, free. Useful?

The plan

When	Move	Notes
Fri Oct 2	Pause buyer steps for all three.	-
Tue Oct 6	Partner email to Jonathan Bartkowicz.	-
Tue Oct 13	Send the KMZ to whoever responds.	-
Q4	Ask for one joint client introduction.	-

What progress looks like (for management)

By	Milestone	How we will know
Oct 20	Studio accepts the KMZ	Logged
Dec 15	First joint opportunity	Deal or referral logged

Guardrails

- Partner framing only; never pitch Corgan as a buyer.
- Credits used: ZoomInfo company and signals for 1 company.
