

DocuSign: networking intent at 99 and a February Equinix pitch to build on

Account entry plan for Spencer Refer | Prepared Thursday, October 1, 2026 | Sources: HubSpot, Lemlist, ZoomInfo

99 Networking Solutions intent, audience A	99 Bandwidth intent (Sep 5)	24 DocuSign contacts in HubSpot	0 replies so far
STAGE Prospect. No deal.	RUNNING NOW CTF ENT - Practitioners (5 network engineers emailed Sep 30); Leaders (EA to CIO); INTL (Nick Clarke, Tony Fouchard)	LAST TOUCH Sep 30: emails to Remy Pouppeville, Eric Burke, Remi Paulmier, Jorge Ferreira, Mark Tan	NEXT STEP Mon Oct 5: email Nick Clarke (Director, Global Infrastructure) directly

Bottom line

DocuSign ($3.4B revenue) showed some of the strongest network intent on your list: Networking Solutions 99 (audience A), Bandwidth 99, Cloud 99, Data Center 98, Equinix 91 and Backhaul 71. In Feb-Mar you emailed Anton Sidelnikov about its Equinix CH1/2/4 and CH3 presence, with no reply. Five network engineers were emailed Sep 30. The decision maker, Nick Clarke (Director, Global Infrastructure), is stuck in the international list, and the Leaders slot went to the CIO's executive assistant.

What DocuSign is, in one analogy

DocuSign is a notary that never closes. Its signature has to reach the vault through two separate doors, and we own a door in Chicago.

Signals worth citing

How the access path should run

Messages, by contact

1. Nick Clarke Director, Global Infrastructure

Why them: Owner; matches Equinix and backhaul intent.

Channel: Email Mon Oct 5 | Subject: Backhaul between DocuSign's Chicago Equinix sites

Nick, Crosstown owns underground fiber between Equinix CH1/CH2/CH4 at 350 E Cermak and CH3 in Elk Grove, mapped to the conduit. If DocuSign is reviewing backhaul or a second path between those sites, we can show it on one map. 20 minutes?

Why them: Technical follow-up.

Channel: Email Thu Oct 8 | Subject: Chicago Equinix KMZ

Remy, following my note last week: here's an offer of our Chicago KMZ showing the routes between the Equinix sites. Want it?
