

Equinix: on-net at four Chicago IBXs; get on the channel team's radar

Partner activation plan for Spencer Refer | Prepared Thursday, October 1, 2026 | Sources: HubSpot, Lemlist, ZoomInfo

4 Chicago IBXs where Crosstown is on-net	$5-7B annual data center buildout	Feb 18 Spencer's IBX visit	0 joint deals logged
STAGE Partner: aware, not activated.	RUNNING NOW CTF PARTNER - Data Center Reps (draft): Andrew Charen, Rebecca Sampson	LAST TOUCH Feb 18: IBX visit follow-up	NEXT STEP Mon Oct 5: launch the draft; personal note to Andrew Charen

Bottom line

Crosstown is on-net at Equinix CH1, CH2 and CH4 (350 E Cermak) and CH3 (Elk Grove). Equinix says its capacity additions over the next 3-4 years could equal everything it built in the past 27 years, at $5-7B a year. In September it launched Fabric One and the Inference Exchange for distributed AI. More capacity and more AI interconnection mean more customers needing diverse metro paths between IBXs. Equinix intent showed up at 10+ of your customer accounts this month (Apple, PANW, DocuSign, Sidley, SRAIab, Tradeweb, NinjaTrader and others). The channel team (Andrew Charen, Rebecca Sampson) is the way to turn that into referrals.

What Equinix is, in one analogy

Equinix is the busiest train station in Chicago. Crosstown runs the tunnels between its platforms; the station staff (channel) can point every traveler to them.

Why them: Partner program owner.

Channel: Email Mon Oct 5 | Subject: Diverse paths between Chicago IBXs

Andrew, Crosstown owns underground fiber between CH1/CH2/CH4 at 350 E Cermak and CH3 in Elk Grove, mapped to the conduit. As Chicago capacity grows, your customers will need provably diverse paths between IBXs. I'd like to understand how your partner team brings in metro fiber providers. 20 minutes?
