STAGE Prospect. No deal.	RUNNING NOW CTF ENT - Nasdaq (dedicated, Sep 29-30); CTF INTL (European data center and network staff)	LAST TOUCH Sep 30: enrollments (Heather Opp, Gunnar Halldorsson, Cheta Grate)	NEXT STEP Mon Oct 5: email Albert Soriano (Director, North America Data Centers)

Bottom line

Nasdaq showed the broadest intent of any account this month: Digital Realty 99, plus Bandwidth 91 (audience A), Networking/Telecom 91, Cloud 91, Data Center 78, Equinix 71, Colocation 71 and Network Infrastructure 71. Crosstown is on-net at Digital Realty's 350 E Cermak building and at Equinix. HubSpot holds 27 contacts, but the dedicated Nasdaq campaign went to an executive assistant, the head of IT for Iceland and one engineer. The US owners haven't been contacted: Albert Soriano (Director, NA Data Centers), Warren Brown (Sr Director, Network Engineering) and Andrew Wild (Principal Network Architect, Global Market Systems).

What Nasdaq is, in one analogy

Nasdaq is browsing listings in the exact building where we already own the elevator. Show them the elevator.

How the access path should run

Messages, by contact

1. Albert Soriano Director, North America Data Centers

Why them: Matches Digital Realty 99.

Channel: Email Mon Oct 5 | Subject: Nasdaq and 350 E Cermak

Albert, if Nasdaq is evaluating Digital Realty or Equinix space in Chicago, Crosstown is on-net at both at 350 E Cermak and at CH3 in Elk Grove, with underground fiber mapped to the conduit. I can show which sites we tie together on diverse paths. 20 minutes?

2. Warren Brown Sr Director, Network Engineering

Why them: Network owner.

Channel: Email Wed Oct 7 | Subject: Chicago conduit map (KMZ)

Warren, I can send our Chicago route map in KMZ covering Digital Realty, Equinix and TierPoint, so your team can check paths for shared conduit. Want it?
