Bottom line

Pasqal (Palaiseau, France, about 300 people) builds neutral-atom quantum processors and began trading on Nasdaq (PSQL) after a business combination. It promoted Roberto Mauro to Chief Product Officer (Sep 14), and engineering openings are at a 12-month high. HubSpot has one technical contact, Bruno Progam (Network and Systems Administrator). Confirm where Pasqal's US operations sit before investing more.

What Pasqal is, in one analogy

Pasqal just went public: it has new money and new pressure to build. Find out whether the new building is in Chicago.
